Exhibition Theatres

This year there are six theatres on the exhibition floor providing you with free content in Water & Infection; Energy & Sustainability; Facilities Management (NEW for 2017); Healthcare Design; Apprentice Today Leaders Tomorrow (NEW for 2017), and Hospital Engineering.

Water & Infection Control

The theatre provides a platform for NHS Estates & Facilities professionals and water safety companies to discuss applications across the NHS. It’s the perfect opportunity to learn about specialist topics such as Rapid Microbiology, Existing and Emerging Pathogen’s and the Challenges of Infection Control and Engineering.

Healthcare Design

Featuring the latest case studies, this theatre in the ‘Architects’ destination for architects, contractors and their clients, discussing findings from a case study evaluation and current practice in healthcare design. This year the theatre features presentations from Architects for Health, IHEEM, health, PracticeUK, and many more.

Energy & Sustainability

The Energy & Sustainability theatre will showcase the latest techniques and innovation in reducing the carbon footprint across the NHS. In-depth content will also be delivered by the Carbon and Energy Fund (CEF), specifically created to fund, facilitate and project manage complex energy infrastructure upgrades for the NHS.

Facilities Management

NEW for 2017 A two-day programme focusing on hard and soft FM healthcare. Exhibitors and supporters will have the opportunity to submit presentations for the exciting new addition to Healthcare Estates.

Hospital Engineering

The Hospital Engineering theatre will feature presentations by leading NHS Trusts on recently completed innovative engineering projects. The theatre is supported by IHEEM and NAHF and will feature examples of engineering excellence, case studies and best practice.

Healthcare Today Leaders Tomorrow

NEW for 2017 Apprenticeship and traineeship programmes can be a cost-effective way to create a skilled, flexible and motivated workforce and can help employees keep pace with developments in technology and working practices with healthcare.
